

Parents' Code of Ethics

Introduction

As LSQ parents, we play a vital role in supporting our children's education and building a strong school community. Our actions reflect our commitment to respect, responsibility, and cooperation. By following this Code of Ethics, we help create a safe and supportive environment for all children to thrive.

Responsibilities Towards the School

- Support the school's mission and policies.
- Treat all staff and administrators with respect and courtesy.
- Communicate constructively through official channels.
- Respect school procedures and boundaries when visiting the campus.
- Dress appropriately when attending school events or meetings.

Responsibilities Towards Children's Learning

- Encourage children to attend school regularly and on time.
- Reinforce the value of honesty, responsibility, and respect at home.
- Cooperate with teachers to support children's academic and personal growth.
- Provide accurate and honest information about your child when required.

Responsibilities Towards Teachers and Staff

- Respect teachers' professional role and decisions.
- Work in partnership with staff for the benefit of the child.
- Refrain from using personal or social status to influence school decisions.

Responsibilities Towards Other Parents

- Treat fellow parents with fairness and respect.
- Support a positive school atmosphere by avoiding gossip, criticism, or conflict.
- Collaborate with the wider parent community to strengthen LSQ.

Responsibilities Towards Society

- Promote Qatari values, traditions, and respect for cultural diversity.
- Encourage children to participate positively in society.
- Support school initiatives that strengthen community service and national identity.
